

Nature or nurture

A project that brings two classics together

UNDERBENCH APPLIANCES
KEEP BENCHES CLEAR AND ASSIST IN MAINTAINING A STREAMLINED APPEARANCE.

In the Kitchen Link showroom in Auckland stands this display kitchen and it's clear to see why it stops passersby in their tracks to study its details closely. The space is warm and inviting; one a homeowner could imagine themselves cooking in when surrounded by family and friends swapping stories of the day, as its walnut veneer and timber finishes bring a down-to-earth ambience.

This striking kitchen of timeless materials also includes marble benchtops and gloss polyurethane doors — these finishes are in contrast to the natural appearance of the panels and floors. Lit by three ambient pendant lights, the room is an exercise in comfortable style and is proof that timber veneer is experiencing a 21st-century renaissance.

This showroom features finishes that evoke visions of comfort and nurture, and the result is nothing short of spectacular.
