

INDUSTRIAL EDGE

"This design is a lesson in contrast thanks to an interesting mix of materials and textures, from the light oak floor to the rough-sawn painted timber ceiling and walls, to the black-washed crown-cut oak veneer cabinets in silky matt. Teamed with concrete and stainless-steel benchtops, plus dark metal beams to frame the main wall, the look is modern with an industrial edge tailored to complement the barn house style of the home. The renovation did away with the dated U-shape layout that prevented access to the alfresco dining space and living area. The new open space has dramatically improved flow and access and a large scullery and wine cooler room keep working and storage spaces out of sight."

We love the mix of colours, textures and finishes.

EXPERT TIP

The hidden scullery allows the sleek design to shine while concealing everyday mess.
