

SPLASH OF COLOUR

"Assorted textures and pops of colour create a vivacious, contemporary kitchen and living area in this relaxed weekend getaway. Our clients wanted a modern, fun kitchen for their beach home, and this design satisfies in both function and form. Family and friends can gather around the large island bench, which is equally perfect for preparing meals, thanks to the expansive Silestone benchtop. Thin benches are balanced by wide negative details, creating a sense of space and depth. A combination of vertical textures is used, with polyurethane semi-gloss lacquer for the cabinetry and Melteca Puregrain around the island bench. The visual interest they provoke is further enhanced by the wavy-textured treatment to the front of the island and above the hob – a nod to the stunning beach surroundings. Amid the neutral palette, vivid orange injects excitement into the room. Complete with abundant storage for platters and serving dishes, the kitchen is a sophisticated and laidback space for both owners and guests to enjoy. We also designed and made the living-room wall unit."
